INTRODUCTION

This activity wishes to initiate a reflective discussion where participants share insights gained from the Disco training activities they have completed within the module and discuss how they plan to apply netiquette principles in their daily interactions with clients. The trainer shall encourage them to identify specific strategies and actionable steps for integrating netiquette into their professional practice.

This activity should be completed towards the end of the other activities completed in the module.

OBJECTIVES

- Select the most appropriate licences when using online resources.

METHODOLOGY

STEP 1

Participants will use the knowledge that they have acquired during the module. Here is an opportunity for participants to fully discuss what they have learned with peers to embed their learning on netiquette and safety and regulation in online guidance. To do so, the trainer shall facilitate the discussion by using a method typical of Debate Education called “The cross”.

METHODOLOGY

STEP 2

- by using tape, the trainer forms a cross on the floor - and therefore 4 squares. The edges of the cross will correspond, respectively, to “easy to achieve”/“difficult to achieve”, and “useful”/“secondary”;
- Participants are divided into small groups, and each group proposes a “motion” (a statement) in relation to what they have learned throughout the module.

METHODOLOGY

STEP 3

- The other participants will then have to place themselves on the square that reflects their feeling towards the motion
- The activity ends once each group has proposed at least one motion.
